ECCSSA's 50th Annual Virtual Conference Roundtable September 26th, 2025

CALL FOR PAPERS, RESEARCH, AND PROPOSALS

Due: August 1st, 2025

Global Perspectives: The Social Sciences in a Connected World

ROUNDTABLE DESCRIPTION

This conference aims to foster discussions on critical global issues, including climate change, migration, international conflicts, and economic inequality, while emphasizing the role of social sciences in addressing these challenges. We invite scholars, practitioners, and researchers to explore how disciplines such as sociology, economics, political science, and anthropology can contribute to global cooperation, justice, equity, and sustainability. The conference will highlight the importance of cross-cultural exchanges, international relations, and diplomacy in promoting understanding and collaboration. We welcome proposals that align with the conference theme and offer innovative solutions to pressing global challenges.

REGISTRATION

FREE for students, $25 for presenters and attendees. Please submit your proposals here. We look forward to your contributions! For more information, please scan
